Investigation of Hancock double murder extended into Louisiana

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK
An investigation into the shooting deaths of two Hancock County women has been extended into several parishes in Louisiana.

Hancock County Investigator Delbert Seay reported Saturday, the extension was due to the victims recent move from Louisiana.

Jeannette Holden, 44, and her mother, Dorothy G. Tassin, 66, were killed early Tuesday morning in a mobile home parked on the side of the Brass Anchor Lounge on US-90 in an apparent robbery-murder.

Holden was the owner and operator of the Brass Anchor and had previously operated a similar establishment in Louisiana.

"We are investigating every possible aspect and are questioning many of her friends and acquaintances who live in Louisiana," he added.

According to an autopsy report both women were shot at close range in the head with a .32 caliber handgun, Seay said.

Holden's daughter Tessie Gross discovered the bodies approximately 11:30 a.m. Holden was in the bedroom on the side of the bed and Tassin was in the hallway.

Time of death is estimated to have been between 6 and 7 a.m. and according to law enforcement officials both women were still wearing nightgowns.

There was reportedly no sign of forced entry to the trailer door which was unlocked or the doors to the lounge which were also unlocked.

Sheriff Ronald Peterson said the doors being unlocked was not according to Holden's reported habit of keeping the doors locked at all times.

There may be some jewelry and money missing, he added.

Anyone with any information regarding this incident is urged to contact the Hancock County Sheriff's Office, 467-5101.

Cuevas faces Dedeaux in run-off election

By DENA BISNETTE
Polls will open at 7 a.m. Tuesday for a Hancock County School Board run-off election in which incumbent Monvel Cuevas will face challenger Barbara Dedeaux.

The winner of the run-off will represent Seat Two, but all county voters may participate because school board members are elected at large.

Cuevas led in the primary with 947 votes while Dedeaux had 792 votes.

Precincts in the run-offs will include Ansley, Lakeshore, Clermont Harbor, Leetown, Pearlington, Flat Top, Catapoulos, Bayou Philip, Crane Creek, Standard, Dedeaux, Diamondhead, Kiln West, Fenton and Kiln East.

County residents who live in some of the precincts that are partially in the cities of Waveland and Bay St. Louis will also vote. Those precincts include Arlington, West Shoreline Park, Courthouse and Edwardsville.

The number of pollworkers at most of the precincts will be reduced for the run-off in order to save on costs, Hancock County Election Commission Secretary Charles Gottschalk said.

"We don't expect a very large turnout, but it's hard to tell because if there's one race people are likely to get involved in, it's a school board race," Gottschalk said.

Polls will close at 7 p.m. and ballots will be taken to the Hancock County Courthouse for counting.

County planners call for modifications in trailer park design

By DENA BISNETTE
The Hancock County Planning Commission has recommended modifications in the design of a proposed trailer park subdivision off Blue Meadow Road.

About 10 people attended the hearing to protest the subdivision, which has been named Blue Meadow Ridge and is being proposed by J. Alvin Triche Jr.

The commission has recommended several changes in the subdivision, which includes more than 20 lots along Blue Meadow Road that are earmarked for regular residential construction. Lots located behind those will be smaller and be used for trailers, according to the current plan.

With the advice of County Engineer Larry Seal, the commission has recommended that the lots for residential construction be redrawn to be no less than 7,500 square feet in total size and not less than 100 feet deep.

The stipulation that houses be constructed on the Blue Meadow Road frontage was placed on the developer by the city of Bay St. Louis when an agreement was reached on extension of water and sewerage to the subdivision, Commission Attorney John Scaffide said.

The developer will have to pay the cost of the extension because the subdivision is located in the county.

Other modifications recommended by the commission and Seal include correcting the angle of an access road into Blue Meadow Road, providing access to one lot that presently has none, and having the lots for trailers conform to Bay St. Louis standards in case of future annexation of the area.

The commission also accepted a petition protesting the development of a trailer park in the Blue Meadow Road area.

Error adds $14,900 to wastewater district cost

By DENA BISNETTE
A U.S. Environmental Protection Agency rule has resulted in additional expense for the Waveland Regional Wastewater Management District and the Hancock County Board of Supervisors.

Board of Supervisors President A.A. Kellar, who also serves as the county's representative on the wastewater board, told the supervisors Monday that the county needed to authorize funding for a $14,900 change in services being provided by Ray Eaton and Associates of Jackson.

According to Wastewater District Administrator Ethel Schott, the additional expense resulted from apparently incorrect instructions provided to Eaton by the State Bureau of Pollution Control.

Eaton has completed a grant eligibility survey and a set of maps for four county subdivisions, including Garden Isles, Jourdan River Isles, Jourdan River Estates and part of Shoreline Park.

The survey was done under an environmental protection agency rule that was not actually the regulation that should have applied to the survey, Schott explained.

"It is not the fault of Eaton or the district. We were just following instructions," she said.

The supervisors objected to the amount but voted four to one approval anyway on the contingency that no final amount is specified until Eaton meets with them on the matter.

Beat Three Supervisor Roger Dale Ladner voted against providing the money to the wastewater district,

VOTING ABSENTEE—David M. Hamilton, left, and John Hamilton, both of Pearlington, receive absentee ballots Saturday morning from Hancock County Circuit Court Deputy Pamela Metzler for Tuesday's run-off school board election. Incumbent Monvel Cuevas faces saying he felt the additional cost could not be justified.

The meeting with Eaton is tentatively set for Nov. 26, during the next supervisors' meeting.

Eaton had completed the survey to map all residential buildings constructed before or during 1972 and find out when houses were built, what type of existing wastewater disposal each house has and the approximate amount of sewerage flow for each building.

The finished survey and maps were submitted to the wastewater district two months ago, Schott said.

The information is to be used to determine the amount of grant funding for which the sewerage project in those four counties is eligible, she added.

"The next thing we know, the Bureau of Pollution Control gets an Environmental Protection Agency memo saying that 1977 guidelines must be followed rather than the 1972 we were originally instructed to use," Schott said.

Under those guidelines, the agency will provide up to 65 percent grant funding for the combined cost of providing sewerage to the four subdivisions, but only for homes constructed before or during the specified year.

Homes constructed after 1977 are not eligible.

Eaton must therefore add an additional five years to the survey, and, under Bureau of Pollution Control guidelines, must verify his information on a house-to-house basis, Schott explained.

Maps will have to be redrawn and new estimates formulated, she added.

four-part project that will link the Bay St. Louis and Waveland sewerage collection systems and provide upgraded treatment levels at the Waveland wastewater treatment plant in addition to providing the first non-private owned sewerage systems in unincorporated parts of the county.

Ladner's contention in voting not to fund the additions to the survey was, because Eaton had already done the survey, adding the homes built from 1973 to 1977 should not cost as much as $14,900.

Mason Chamberlain awarded contract

The Department of the Army Friday awarded a $9.5 million contract to enable the Mississippi Army Ammunition Plant at the National Space Technological Laboratories to continue prove-out testing of its ammunition production line, according to U.S. Congressman Trent Lott.

The contract with Mason Chamberlain, Inc. manager of the plant will enable the facility to enhance its efficiency in the manufacture of the 483 E-1 round of ammunition which it produces for the Army, Lott stated.

An addition to a previous award, the contract calls for testing of projectile metal parts, cargo metal parts, and the load and pack facilities at the plant. The work is expected to be completed by next April.

Bay school board sets special policy meeting

BY DENA BISNETTE

A special Bay-Waveland School District Board meeting has been called for 7 p.m. Wednesday.

The agenda will include a discussion of policies and a request for extension of Pine Street into school board property.

The meeting was called by Board President Betty Diboll.

The policies involved were discussed in a public hearing Thursday and are part of the accreditation requirements mandated by the Education Reform Act of 1982.

The public hearing was attended by more than 20 people and concentrated on 28 proposed policies fulfilling the first of 36 sets of requirements in Bulletin 171, a State Department of Education document specifying accreditation standards for public schools.

Written comments on the proposed policies are being accepted until 2 p.m. Tuesday and may be turned in at the superintendent's office at Bay Senior High School, Superintendent of Education Roger Oge said.

Some of the policies may be rewritten in response to public comment before being approved by the school board, the superintendent added.

While none of the participants in the hearing opposed any of the policies, numerous additions and clarifications were proposed.

Areas cited by most of those commenting included a need for ways in which the school board can solicit and obtain public input, more public control over school board actions and need for a policy allowing a recall procedure for board members.

Numerous suggestions were also made concerning methods for keeping and making public the minutes of board meetings.

Several spectators asked for more specific information to be included in a policy on selection of a superintendent and favored use of a citizen committee.

The need to study and develop better or alternative methods of setting pay scales and evaluating administrators and teachers was also discussed.

Port and Harbor commission beginning director interviews

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

The Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission is scheduling interviews with applicants for the director's position.

Following the submission of recommendations by commission members in Thursday's special meeting, the commission decided to begin interviews for the new director of the Hancock County Port and Harbor facilities, including Stennis International Airport and Port Bienville Industrial Park.

Director James DeBlanc recently reported his resignation effective Jan. 1, and more than 50 applications have been submitted for the position.

Commission President Ronald Artigues said no deadline has been set for selecting a new director and if a suitable person is not found before DeBlanc's retirement, an interim director can be appointed.

Artigues also said there is no set salary for the director's position but that be determined by the experience and qualifications of the person selected.

The current director is being paid approximately $32,000, he added.

"We are really looking for a person with a strong background in salesmanship, one who can really attract industry to Hancock County," Artigues said.

It was also reported at the meeting that Port Bienville Industries, Inc. is proposing to buy a 10-acre tract currently owned by Blue Streak Marine at Port Bienville.

The company, which repairs and refurbishes supply boats for the east coast, expects to hire 50 employees at the onset and increase that number to 150 over the next six months.

County Agent's Notes

By Lee Taylor

MANAGING THE HERD

Now is a good time to make plans for the coming fall breeding season. A well-defined breeding program will help eliminate a lot of mistakes and it also might help prevent a low calf crop next fall.

A good breeding program means attention to details, including selecting high-performing bulls and cows and getting rid of non-producers. That's really the only way a producer has a chance for profits these days.

In planning a breeding program, keep in mind that winter pastures won't be at their peak at the start of the breeding season. Plenty of feed will be needed in the weeks leading to the breeding season. Not enough nutrition can mean problems in next fall's crop.

Managing the cow herd properly from now through the breeding season will pay in the long run through a better calf crop. And increasing the calving percentage is a quick way to boost income in a cow herd.

For more information on a complete fall-breeding program for cattle, contact the county Extension office.

SAVE ON FERTILIZER COSTS

There may be a way you can save on next year's fertilizer bill without costing an arm and leg in lower yields. It's by using a soil test.

You may have built up the fertility of your soil to a high level of intense fertilization in the past. If so, you may be able to cut back on fertilizer next year without hurting yields.

But, the only way you can know for sure is with a good soil test. Call or visit our office for details.

REMINDER ABOUT TOXAPHENE

Just a reminder that the pesticide toxaphene can't be used legally after Dec. 31. It could be difficult and expensive to dispose of the chemical after that date under Resource Conservation and Recovery Act regulations.

With the harvest season almost over, time is running out for many practical uses of toxaphene.

The material can still be used until Dec. 31 for sicklepod in soybeans, armyworm in no-till corn, corn billbug, flea beetle and webworm, cowpea curculio, cutworm, darkling ground beetle, lygus bug and southern green stinkbug.

Your best bet is probably to find some labeled use of the material yourself or find someone who can. Waiting until after Dec. 31 could be costly.

Mike Sturdivant of Glendora, Gov.

Allain's appointee to the Commission, will also address a special session of corporate, government and academic leaders about the Commission report.

Gov. Allain will preside at the panel discussion at 10 a.m. Tuesday in Salon B of The Excelsior Hotel.

Panelists and their topics include: "Strength At-Risk Families," James H. Ward, School of Social Work, University of Alabama; "Mobilize Resources to Eliminate Adult Functional Illiteracy," Irby C. Simpkins, Jr., Publisher, The Nashville Banner; "Prepare a Globally Competitive Work Force," George L. Bragg, Chairman, CEO and President, Telex Computer Products, Inc.; and "Provide Nationally Competitive Education for All Southern Students," Bettye Caldwell, Donaghey Distinguished Professor of Education, University of Arkansas at Little Rock.

Mr. L.E.O.:

The Law Enforcement Officer and The Citizen

Have you ever wondered why you see two, sometimes more officers riding in one patrol unit? I know you think it is because they need someone to talk to or to laugh at each others' jokes. Maybe you think like television, it is for backup in high crime areas. All these things might be true but none are, especially in a small town.

Actually, when you see two patrolmen in the vehicle together in a small township it is usually for two major reasons:

The first of these purposes is training. Usually one of the officers is a new employee or boot patrolman and is riding with a more experienced officer to learn.

He is taught many things. How to handle traffic stops, domestic situations which could become explosive, and felony crimes in progress.

After the initial training period he has to pass a verbal test by a field training officer and a review board consisting of senior officers. This training could take up to six months. Once the P/O completes this, he is allowed to work alone until he attends the training academy.

I know you are saying, "We sure must have a lot of new police officers. I know I've seen several vehicles with two officers in it."

Are we hiring all these people? The answer is no.

The second purpose explains this. One of the major reasons a small department can function with some ease is due to its reserve police force.

The reserve police are everyday citizens, like yourself. They have other jobs and careers. They enjoy working with their police department to help their city or fellow citizens. They do not want to give up their careers to become full-time officers, so they donate their off time.

But before they can be allowed on the street they must also be trained. Usually a reserve training academy, and then on the street by a full-time training officer.

Since they are not full-time, 40 hours per week, they must stay proficient by serving an allotted amount of time each month. But reserves or not, they are empowered with the same authority of a regular officer. Give that officer the same respect as you would a regular officer. You probably won't be able to tell the difference anyway. It's always better to be safe than sorry.

Clarification

A Bay-Waveland School District Board minute book that was reported missing during Monday night's school board meeting has been missing for several years, according to Superintendent of Education Roger Oge.

Oge stated at a Thursday public hearing on school board policy that the book had been discovered to be missing during the administration of his predecessor, J.D. McCullough, who retired earlier this year. The book contains seven years of minutes from the early 1970s.

Havens says "zero" increase to Mississippi Power Company

Lynn Havens, Public Service Commissioner of the Southern District, issued the following statement today concerning the recent quarterly filing of Mississippi Power Company under its new Performance Evaluation Plan.

A quick review of the filing of Mississippi Power Company today indicates no change in the rate schedule.

The Performance Evaluation Plan that was initially placed into effect for three years in March of this year is proving to be a very successful method in continuous protection for Mississippi Power Company customers to maintain the lowest possible rates.

Havens further stated that with some other cost cutting methods that are pending with Mississippi Power Company it could bring additional reductions in rates to Mississippi Power Company customers in the future. "I am pleased with the way the Performance Evaluation Plan has worked thus far, but will maintain a very watchful eye on the entire process."

MarkeTown merchants form association

BY DENA BISNETTE

MarkeTown Shopping Center on US-90 in Bay St. Louis now has its own merchants association.

Bob Cavanaugh, owner of Back to the Fifties Lounge in MarkeTown, said the major purpose of the association will be promoting the shopping center.

"We want to work together to make the businesses here more attractive to the Bay St. Louis and Waveland shoppers as well as the nearby Harrison County area. Our goal is to make everyone aware of MarkeTown and what we have to offer," Cavanaugh said.

"We're hoping that this will generate a lot of excitement here in Hancock County. It is something the shopping center has needed for a long time."

He said the association presently has 14 merchants in MarkeTown participating.

"It has taken several weeks of work to get them all together and we hope to add others as the shopping center begins to fill up available space," Cavanaugh commented.

The shopping center was recently taken over by a new owner, Cal-Equity of New Orleans, La.

"We expect to have several stores coming in and a lot of improvements made," he explained, adding that a landscaping project has already begun.

Merchants association promotions are being planned, with one scheduled to begin this week.

The grand prizes for the event will be a free trip to Bahamas and a $1,500 shopping spree at participating merchants.

Each participating merchant will have registration boxes for a weekly prize drawing.

One finalist will be drawn by each merchant for each week until Christmas, with two winners selected each week for prizes of $250 in merchandise each.

On Dec. 23, the two grand prize winners will be selected using the same format used to select weekly winners.

"WHY PAY MORE AT THE BIG STORES?"

Quotables by CUEVAS

Voters residing in the Hancock County School District will select a school board member in a run-off election to be held on Tuesday.

It is important for every qualified voter to get out and vote for the candidate of their choice for this very important issue.

We can recall several elections which were settled by only one vote, so it is important for everyone to be sure and vote on Tuesday.

Remember, the polls open at 7 a.m. and will close at 6 p.m.

Old Man Winter came blowing into the area on Friday, and really changed the lifestyles of many.

Myself, I am a warm-weather person, and all those folks living in the North can have the cold weather as far as I am concerned.

One thing is for sure, we have no control over the weather, and have really had a very good Fall season.

We know our local merchants are happy to see the cool weather, as it will help in the sales of winter clothing.

I just shiver when I hear about the below zero temperatures the folks in some areas are facing this time of the year.

I am glad our Senator Gene Taylor saw a need to recognize our Vietnam veterans, and authored a bill which was co-authored by the entire state Senate.

U.S. Interstate 10 within Mississippi, and it cuts across Hancock County, has been designated as The Vietnam Veterans Memorial Highway.

Vietnam Veterans have really received very little recognition for their sacrifices, some of whom lost their lives, and others carry the scars of war even today.

We will be looking forward to the signs being posted on the Interstate.

The Fifth Grade Family, the parent-teacher organization of the Fifth Grade Center on Necaise Avenue, Bay St. Louis will conduct a book fair this week through Friday.

The Fifth Grade Center is in need of more books to complete the library for student use.

Books can be deposited at the Fifth Grade Center, Waveland Elementary, North Bay Elementary, Bay Junior High and Bay Senior High for the Center.

We are hoping residents of the community who may have books which they no longer need and are appropriate for fifth graders will contribute them to the center's library.

Practice sensible hunting rules for safety's sake

Hunting is a great sport. Recent surveys show more than 20 million Americans participate in this activity yearly, and the number is steadily growing.

With the opening of local hunting seasons, here in South Mississippi, Coast Electric Power Association extends this caution to hunters of the potential dangers associated with shooting of electrical equipment.

Dave Hensley, Coast Electric's Safety Coordinator states, "In the past, our electrical equipment has been damaged by careless hunters. The destruction of equipment and the possibility of power outages are just minor complications which result from this type of vandalism," he commented.

Hensley expressed the cooperative's concern about the welfare and safety of hunters and innocent bystanders who may come in contact with a downed power line. "Our main concern is for the individual who may be a victim of an electrical accident caused by this type of needless target practicing," he cautioned.

Coast Electric maintains over 3,800 miles of power line, much of which lies in heavily wooded areas that attract wildlife and hunters.

Hensley asked local hunters to assist the cooperative in locating hazardous line conditions. "Anyone who notices an unsafe or potentially dangerous electrical line condition, is asked to report it to Coast Electric," states Hensley. "With everyone's help and a few sensible precautions, this can be one of the safest hunting seasons ever," he said.

Governor appointed to national committee

Governor Bill Allain has been appointed Vice Chairman of the National Governors' Association's Committee on Criminal Justice and Public Protection by NGA Chairman and Arkansas Gov. Bill Clinton.

In addition, Gov. Allain has also been appointed to the NGA's Committee of Human Resources and to the Task Force on Welfare Prevention.

"These three committees deal with issues that directly concern Mississippians," Governor Allain said. "The Criminal Justice committee has been working on the problem of drug abuse prevention for a number of years. With the national focus on this problem, the nation's governors will be working with the Congress and the White House to help states in controlling drug trafficking and aiding drug abuse victims."

Governor Allain also said the Human Resources committee is the focal point for education and health and human services activities of the association. "With the NGA's work on education reform and improvement and on infant mortality, Mississippi has been in the forefront on both issues. This committee assignment will allow us to share our experiences with other states."

In appointing Governor Allain, Governor Clinton said the Welfare Prevention Task Force will "work to develop a model strategic action plan to ameliorate this barrier to productivity."

Governor Allain said, "As we work toward finding more jobs for Mississippians, we want to help as many Mississippians as possible make the transition from welfare to salaried jobs. I hope my work on the task force will give us ideas for accomplishing this goal in Mississippi." Their recommendations, due in final form this month, should be used as a resource for the constitutional convention.

If we can continue the mood of change and the enthusiasm for moving forward in this state through a constitutional convention, Mississippi will gain the reputation as a state that faces its problems head-on and works together through the democratic process to find solutions.

Senator Thad Cochran

SENATOR CITES IMPORTANCE OF FORESTRY TO MISSISSIPPI'S ECONOMIC FUTURE

Senator Thad Cochran (R-Miss.) says developing fully the potential of forestry and wood products is "essential to the future economic development of Mississippi."

And, the Senator pledged his continued efforts in Congress to promote legislation and projects aimed at forestry research and development.

In a speech to the Mississippi Forestry Association, Senator Cochran cited some recent legislation and policy actions designed to bolster the forestry industry in the United States.

He pointed to an increase in funding for state and private forestry organizations' programs, a $100,000 study to determine the needs of an export marketing program for lumber, and a 15 percent import duty on Canadian lumber.

Also, Senator Cochran, chairman of the Appropriations subcommittee on Agriculture and a ranking member of the Agriculture and Forestry Committee, noted that legislation he helped pass is responsible for locating a wood products testing laboratory program at Mississippi State University in Starkville and construction and equipping of a polymer science research institute at the University of Southern Mississippi in Hattiesburg.

"It is our hope that programs such as these will lead to significant new developments and job opportunities involving forestry products in our state," he told the forestry association.

Senator Cochran, who was cited by the state organization for his efforts in Congress on behalf of forestry, closed by stating that over 23,000 people are employed in Mississippi in the timber and forestry industry, and it ranks third in economic impact in agriculturally-related fields.

This evening, the Senator was to address the Tippah County Development Foundation at Blue Mountain. Friday, he will tour facilities at the Golden Triangle Regional Medical Center at Columbus. Saturday morning, he will speak at ceremonies dedicating facilities at the College of Veterinary Medicine at Mississippi State University, and attend the MSU-Alabama game.

GOOD ADVICE FROM THE BRITISH

He came all the way from Britain to warn us, and his message was clear:

"If you are considering following the model of the British welfare system, don't."

That sound advice came from Dr. Digby Anderson, in Mississippi a few days ago to lecture to students at Mississippi College and to speak to a group of the state's business leaders.

Dr. Anderson, a university lecturer and columnist for the London Times, warned that the British welfare system was no longer a department of government. Now, he said, "welfare is a principle of government," a principle which the British may never be able to abolish. The noted Britisher cited three reasons why the British welfare system has failed:

1. The system delivers money to those who don't need it.
2. Those who manage the system have insufficient information and knowledge on which to base sound decisions.
3. The system has created a constituency of interest groups powerful enough to perpetuate welfare. They include welfare recipients, employees of the system, and private sector groups who benefit from the servicing of the system.

The only hope for dismantling the system, Dr. Anderson concluded, is that the quality of welfare services will become so poor and so costly that the public will rise up against it. Hopefully, we will heed the advice of our visitor from Britain.

College night set at Bay Legion for high school juniors and seniors

Nov. 13, 1986
Dear Editor,

The American Legion and its Auxiliary have a long-standing interest and commitment to American Education. We believe a strong education program is important and significant in maintaining American traditions and instilling in our young people a sense of personal obligation and responsibility.

Sixty-six years of concern and interest will be observed Nov. 16-22 during the annual nationwide observance of American Education Week. This year's theme is: School and Community: United for Excellence.

Clement R. Bontemps Unit 139 of the American Legion would like to take this opportunity to invite all juniors and seniors in high school and their parents to attend a College Night on Wednesday, Nov. 19 at 7 p.m. at the post home in Bay St. Louis.

There will be representatives from Ole Miss, USM, Mississippi State, Mississippi University for Women, Millsaps, Pearl River Junior College and Jackson State as well as University of South Alabama, LSU and Xavier of New Orleans.

Also on hand will be members of the education committees for both the American Legion and Auxiliary with their local scholarship information.

We hope to provide local students an opportunity to meet with a variety of schools from Mississippi and surrounding states to discuss admission requirements and financial assistance. We sincerely hope every junior and senior will take advantage of this opportunity.

Sincerely,
Agnes Wilkerson, Chairman
Education Committee

The Sea Coast Echo

Dear Sir,
I would like to comment on the article on the front page of the Thursday, Nov. 13 Sea Coast Echo.

I hope that Dr. Roger Oge finds it within his heart to remove the reprimand from Mr. James Baldree's personnel file.

Mr. Baldree is a kind and caring man. He cares about each individual student as if they were his own.

He cares about his teachers and staff. But he also makes the parents feel as though we are all one family, united together by a common goal...the education and welfare of our children.

Mr. Baldree doesn't have an insubordinate bone in his body.

As for the work load these people manage in the course of a day—I don't think the average person could accomplish what Mr. Baldree and Mrs. Hodgins get done in one day.

I've spent time there often and I see what goes on. They never hardly have a chance to sit. It's a constant!

Dear Sir,
We would like to recognize the men of the Rotary Club for the wonderful job they did in sponsoring the Field Day at the 1986 Hancock County Fair.

Not only did these men volunteer their time and donate money for prizes, but they were enthusiastic and kind to the children during the day's activities.

All of our children thoroughly enjoyed the events of the day, and all of them left the fair with a feeling of accomplishment and self-worth.

CONSTITUTIONAL CHANGE MOOD CONTINUES SWEEPING STATE

With the election day passage of five amendments to the State Constitution of 1890, the voters again spoke to their support for changing the Constitution for better, more efficient government. The passage of the five amendments indicates that the people are eager to seek changes in government in our state.

I was very happy that the governor and treasurer will be allowed the opportunities to serve more than one term. These changes will provide greater continuity in state government.

I want to congratulate and thank everyone who went to the polls and voted.

The margin of approval of these constitutional amendments—ranging from 66 percent to 88 percent—also indicated that people support constitutional revision and see those changes as vital to progress, growth and economic development for our state.

Following these trends, I will be recommending that the Legislature in January call a constitutional convention to bring our entire state constitution forward with other needed amendments. The people should be given the opportunity to write a new constitution and submit it to themselves for final approval. The Legislature should read the vote on election day as a vote by the people for constitutional revision.

As you know, I appointed a constitutional commission a year ago to study the areas of change and revision that are needed in Mississippi. Their recommendations, due in final form this month, should be used as a resource for the constitutional convention.

If we can continue the mood of change and the enthusiasm for moving forward in this state through a constitutional convention, Mississippi will gain the reputation as a state that faces its problems head-on and works together through the democratic process to find solutions.

CONGRESSIONAL LEADERSHIP JOBS GOOD OMEN FOR MISSISSIPPI

As the 100th Congress convenes in January, we in Mississippi are facing again another first for our state. We will apparently be the home state for the chairmen of both the U.S. House and U.S. Senate Appropriations Committees.

With the continuation of Congressman Jamie Whitten as chairman of the House Committee and the selection of Sen. John C. Stennis as chairman of the Senate Committee, Mississippians can be proud. No other state has ever had this powerful honor.

These two men are to be commended for the many years of service they have provided to their nation and their state. Throughout their careers, they have managed to work up the ranks of the leadership of this nation, while not forgetting the people back home.

Both Congressman Whitten and Senator Stennis are well respected in Washington and appreciated back home. So many projects and programs have been made available through their efforts as ranking committee members in the Congress. Together, they have amassed nearly 50 years of service of service in Washington.

In these trying economic times both in Mississippi and in the nation, it is reassuring to know that the interests of our state are as well taken care of in Washington.

MPC customers to get refund, lower charge

Mississippi Power Company customers will get a refund in December and, after the first of the year, a lower charge for electricity, the Gulfport-based utility announced Friday.

"For the customer using around 1,000 kilowatt-hours a month, the refund will be about $20," Ed Blakeslee, the utility's vice president of marketing said. "And, after the first of the year, the total charge for 1,000 kilowatt-hours will decrease from $62.32 to $62.26."

The $13 million refund stems from a lawsuit Mississippi Power Company filed against Peabody Coal Company for failure to deliver coal. And the Jan. 1 reduction in rates will come about after two changes - an increase offset by a larger decrease. After the first of the year customer fuel charges will decrease by $3 million while rates will increase by $6.5 million to make up for the loss of electricity sales to other utilities.

"We sued Peabody Coal Company on behalf of our customers and won an out-of-court settlement of around $55 million," Blakeslee said. "This refund is the last installment of the pay-back to MPC and will complete the Peabody refund to our customers."

Only customers who were on MPC lines during October 1986 will be eligible for the refund and refund amounts will be based on kilowatt-hour purchases from November 1985 through October 1986.

Blakeslee said customers whose refund amounts are less than $5 will see a credit on their December bill. Customers with refunds more than $5 will be sent a check around mid-December.

The $3 million reduction in fuel charges for 1987 came about after MPC renegotiated some coal contracts to save on transportation costs. This will be the fourth year in a row that MPC customers have seen a reduction in fuel charges.

"We were able to shift part of our coal supply from Colorado to West Virginia," Blakeslee said. "Obviously it costs less to transport coal by rail from West Virginia than from Colorado because of the distance involved. This savings is being passed right along to our customers."

The savings will be reflected in the fuel clause on customers' bills. Under Public Service Commission rules, Mississippi Power Company adjusts the clause each January to reflect the actual cost of fuel during the previous year and the anticipated cost of fuel in the coming year.

"Without this reduction in fuel costs, our customers could have seen a $6.5 million increase after the first of the year," Blakeslee said. "But because we were able to

Support of Christmas Seal program needed

Christmas Seal dollars in Mississippi provide patient services, education and medical research to prevent and control lung diseases in Hancock County and Mississippi.

"If your lungs are healthy, the Christmas Seal People want to keep them that way, but if there is a problem, Christmas Seal dollars and the Mississippi Lung Association are there to help," said Mrs. Elda Duke of Waveland, chairman of the Hancock County Chapter of the Mississippi Lung Association.

"A future free of lung disease is the goal which Christmas Seal People are working toward through a wide variety of projects, services, fellowships, research grants and programs," Duke said.

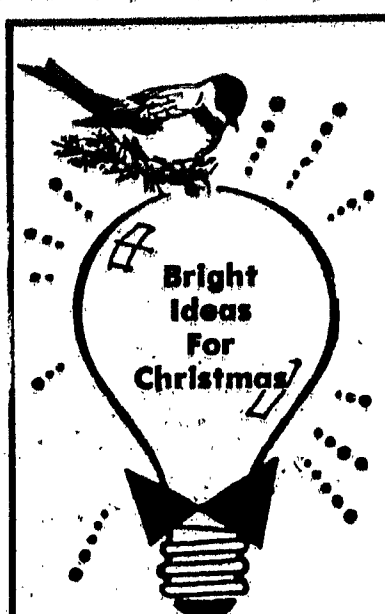

Christmas Seal support provides vital patient assistance to fellow Mississippians of all ages who suffer with lung problems. Mississippi Christmas Seal dollars support medical research in Mississippi and the nation to probe causes and cures of lung diseases.

Education, both public and professional, has high priority in Christmas Seal work, Duke said. Comprehensive school programs and self-help lung health programs help prevent lung disease and improve lung health. Christmas Seal dollars help provide support for the Christmas Seal Professor of Respiratory Disease at the University of Mississippi Medical Center, post-doctoral fellowships, special tuberculosis training courses and other scientific seminars for physicians and other medical personnel.

At this season of giving special thanks for our many blessings, the Hancock County Lung Chapter urges citizens to answer the Christmas Seal letter and join in the fight for "life and breath." Christmas Seal gifts are credited to the local county and each gift is income tax-deductible.

Members of every branch of the United States military joined in comradeship Nov. 19 to celebrate the U.S. Marine Corps' 211th birthday.

The celebration took place at "The Good Life" on Beach Boulevard in Bay St. Louis where owner Ernest Beckemeyer, a former Marine, provided an array of delicious food, a huge birthday cake with the Marine Corps insignia, beverages and live music.

Victor J. Frankiewicz Jr., mayor of Bay St. Louis was presented the honor of making the first cut in the birthday cake. According to tradition, the first slice of cake was presented to the oldest Marine present, Mr. John Ciravolo; and the second slice was presented to the youngest Marine present, Steve Smith. Also according to tradition, a military sword was used to cut the cake.

This was the Second Annual U.S. Marine Corps Birthday Party, and was given in conjunction with the fund raising drive being conducted by the Mississippi Veterans Memorial Fund Committee of Hancock County. All proceeds from the birthday party will go to the construction and maintenance of a veterans memorial to be placed at the foot of the Bay St. Louis bridge.

Among the many veterans, present enlisted men and women, and guests from all over our county and from other states were such dignitaries as Mayor Jake Erwin, Pass Christian; Sheriff Ronald Peterson, Hancock County and Chief of Police Ray Murphy, Bay St. Louis.

The Third Annual U.S. Marine Corps Birthday Party will be Nov. 10, 1987.

Guidance counselors meeting set for Jackson this week

Over 600 guidance and personnel specialists from across Mississippi will convene Nov. 19 - 21 for the Mississippi Counseling Association's (MCA) annual conference at the Holiday Inn Downtown.

The MCA is an "umbrella" organization which includes counselors from schools, colleges, agencies, and private settings; counselor educators; psychologists; and psychometrists. It is a state division of the American Association for Counseling and Development.

The theme for the three-day conference will be "Counseling: The Bridge to Growth and Understanding." Mary Alice Cates, Association President, says that the theme reflects the organization's feeling that counseling works to enhance the individual's growth by increasing his understanding of self and others.

Dr. Kent Wyatt, President of Delta State University, will give the keynote address at the opening session on Wednesday night, Nov. 19 at 7 p.m. Prior to the conference, Dr. William Wagner, Associate Professor of Counseling Psychology at the University of Southern Mississippi, will conduct an all-day workshop on how to help the sexually abused child.

An awards luncheon Thursday will recognize individuals who have made significant contributions to the guidance movement within the state during the last year. Approximately 25 content workshops will be conducted throughout the conference.

Current officers of the MCA are Mary Alice Cates, Assistant Director of Counseling at Delta State University, President; Dr. Phil Cooker, counselor educator at the University of Mississippi, President-Elect; Mary Frances Warren, counselor at Warren-Central High School, Secretary; and Ann Hicks, counselor at Clinton Junior High School, Treasurer.

It's a pity that croquettes - those creamy-insided, crisp-outsided cones or squares or rounds of fish or meat or chicken, have for so long been associated with leftovers, because the croquette, properly prepared and sauced, is a culinary treat, and one of the most delicious ways ever to use leftovers - and it's a specialty of experienced cooks to boot.

The word "croquette" in fact comes from the French word "croquer" which means "to crunch" or "to crackle under the teeth." The basic ingredients are held together with a thickish white sauce, or brown sauce, if you prefer, the mixture is shaped together and breaded, then chilled - that's the important step - before frying in deep or shallow oil for a few scant minutes, or just until evenly browned on all sides, and drained very, very well before serving.

It's a boon to the budget all through the year, and tasty enough to come to the dinner table when you have guests, and a welcome addition to the hors d'oeuvre tray in bite-size balls or squares.

The basic mixture requires a cup or so of finely diced chicken or salmon or other fish or whatever, and is enhanced by the addition of chopped mushrooms and a splash of wine. To serve:

CROQUETTES DE JOUR
(That means whatever you have on hand or have purchased that day!)

1 1/2 to 2 cups cooked shrimp, chicken, fish, etc.
4 Tbsp. Flour
4 Tbsp. butter or margarine
1 cup milk (scant a bit on this, you want the sauce rather thick)

2 Tbsp. chopped parsley, green onions

Lemon juice
Dashes of hot pepper sauce, pepper and salt

Make your white (cream) sauce by melting the butter, adding the flour and seasonings, gradually adding the milk. Cook until thick, stirring the while into a white roux.

Combine the chicken, shrimp, fish or whatever, according to the contents of your larder, add the parsley and green onions, and sprinkle liberally with fresh lemon juice, mixing all well together.

Spread the mixture in a buttered flat dish and chill well. Shape into the croquettes, making sure that your hands are well floured so that the shapes won't stick to your fingers as you work.

Roll in bread crumbs, then dip into slightly beaten egg which you've mixed with two tablespoons of water. Roll again in the crumbs, and chill again if you've time - for, the colder they are, the easier they are to handle and the better they turn out.

Fry until golden in at least a half inch or so of hot oil in a heavy skillet, turning ever so gently so as not to disturb the crust. Drain well, well! These may be kept warm in a low oven or reheated in a hot oven, also they may be frozen uncooked, for later enjoyment.

8 and 40

By Dr. Esther Oechmann
Publicity Chairman

The meeting of the Harrison County Salon of 8 and 40 was held at the American Legion Home 139 in Bay St. Louis Nov. 7 with chapeau Evelyn Burns presiding.

Mrs. Lou Wilkerson, departmental partnership chairman, reported she needed help. Mrs. Genevieve Cole volunteered to help collect dues so we may reach quota.

Dr. Oechmann, L'aumonier (chaplain) reported sending in the names of two deceased partners to national and state department. She has sent get-well cards to partners who are ill and sympathy cards to the families of the deceased.

The 8 and 40 has as a special program, the prevention and care of juveniles with tuberculosis and cystic fibrosis. This work, established each year, is a great humanitarian service. No finer project than this one could we accomplish than that of helping and protecting tubercular and cystic fibrosis children.

The partners are making plans for an annual cake sale with proceeds going to the cystic fibrosis program.

The 8 and 40 Christmas party will be Friday, Dec. 5 at the Western Sizzlin on Courthouse Road in Gulfport at 7 p.m. All partners are requested to bring a gift to exchange.

Don't forget this month we celebrate Thanksgiving Day. To make Thanksgiving more meaningful, family and friends gather together in prayer. This is one way to recall when the pilgrims gathered together to give thanks to God and shared their gifts as a sign of gratitude. Let us think of someone less fortunate than ourselves on this day.

I would like to leave this Thanksgiving prayer to you:
Keep us, O Lord, grateful as a nation for the blessings that are ours. Preserve in our hearts the appreciation of Thy gifts that inspired our forefathers to set aside a special day of Thanksgiving, and may we be ever mindful of Thy goodness and kindness. Amen.

Hancock County Extension Homemakers Council

Charlotte Edwards, council president of the Hancock County chapter, Mississippi Extension Homemakers Council, invites all members of the public to attend a special presentation on "The Philippines" to be given by Mr. Eladio Alcala of Waveland, at the Hancock County Library on Highway 90 in Bay St. Louis, on Friday, Nov. 21 at 7 p.m. Martha Van Peak, chairman of the international committee that is sponsoring the event, stated, "This will be a fascinating program. Mr. Alcala is from the Philippines, and is one of its most knowledgeable spokesmen. The Philippines have dramatically occupied international attention for quite some time, and interest in that special country is at an all time high. If you've never been there, this program will serve as your transportation. If you have been there, the like MacArthur, through this program you 'shall return.'"

Onions Star In Savory Supper Pie

The delicate flavor of Sweet Spanish Onions grown in Idaho and Oregon, is featured in a main dish pie for onion lovers. Perfect for a light supper, this unusual pastry needs only a crisp green salad to accompany it.

For the easy to make pie, Sweet Spanish Onions are chopped and sauteed in butter and olive oil, then layered with Swiss cheese in a pre-baked pastry shell. Chopped anchovies, sliced olives and a sprinkling of Parmesan cheese are added before the pie goes into the oven.

If Sweet Spanish Onions are new to you, you're in for a real flavor treat! These quality onions grown in eastern Oregon and southwestern Idaho are especially large in size. One slice will fit a hamburger bun perfectly.

You'll find the bronze-skinned Idaho-Oregon Sweet Spanish Onions in the market from September through March. After purchasing, store the onions in a cool, dark, dry place with good ventilation. Or, they may be chopped and frozen for year 'round use.

For a free copy of an exciting Sweet Spanish Onion Recipe Booklet, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to: IDAHO-OREGON ONION RECIPES, P.O. Box 307, Parma, ID 83660.

COLD WEATHER CASSEROLE

How to use up leftover ham? One good answer is Ham and Rice Almondine, a winning casserole from several standpoints. It's economical, nutritious and quick to fix. Best of all, it's so appealing and flavorful, no one will guess it's leftovers.

Parsleyed rice, combined with sour cream, Cheddar cheese and almonds forms the base. Atop this rich-tasting mixture, seasoned with paprika, marjoram and onion, bakes an attractive border of sliced ham, cheese and crunchy, golden almonds.

All you need to complete the meal is a hearty tossed salad and fruit for dessert.

Ham and Rice Almondine

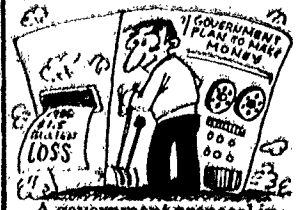

4 cups cooked long grain white rice
1 cup dairy sour cream
1 cup grated Cheddar cheese
2/3 cup sliced almonds, toasted
1/2 cup milk

1/4 cup finely chopped parsley
2 teaspoons onion powder
1 teaspoon marjoram, crumbled
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon paprika
1 cup (4 oz.) sliced cooked ham

Combine rice, sour cream, 1/2 cup cheese, 1/3 cup almonds, milk, parsley, onion powder, marjoram, salt and paprika. Turn into a shallow 5-cup baking dish or skillet. Combine ham, remaining cheese and almonds; and spoon around edge of dish to form border over rice. Cover and bake at 375°F, 15 minutes. Uncover and bake 5 minutes longer. Makes 5 or 6 servings.

*To toast almonds: Spread a single layer in a shallow baking pan and bake at 350°F for 10 to 15 minutes, stirring occasionally, until lightly browned.

RIDICULOUS BUT TRUE!

A government proposal intended to reduce a tax deduction would end up costing federal, state and local treasuries billions of dollars.

The plan is to limit the deduction for business marketing meals and business travel meals to 80 percent of actual dollars spent. According to the experts at Chase Econometrics, this could cause a loss of 395,000 restaurant jobs in the first year alone. Increased unemployment means less income tax and increased welfare and unemployment payments. During the first year, these losses would exceed any revenue gain by one and a half billion dollars!

DID YOU KNOW?

Cold weather can damage hair. Did you know:

- Wearing a tight-fitting hat outside can leave hair flat and limp. This might prompt you to overuse curling irons or hot rollers which can cause dry, brittle hair.
- When you're outside, the wind can dry hair.
- When you're inside, overheated rooms can be the culprit.
- Hair grows more slowly in the cold. You're likely to get it cut less frequently. That gives hair more time to suffer from wind, cold and dryness.

Speaking Oracles

By W. Edwin Kearley

THE FOOLISHNESS OF PREACHING

Imparting the will of God to man is the greatest work man can do for another. Without faith in Christ all humanity is lost eternally in a devil's hell.

Jesus said, "I said therefore unto you, that ye shall die in your sins: for if ye believe not that I am He, ye shall die in your sins." (John 8:24)

In Jesus' preview of the judgment, he said of the wicked, "...depart from me, ye cursed, into everlasting fire, prepared for the devil and his angels." (Matthew 25:40)

Concerning the duration of punishment, Jesus said, "And these shall go away into eternal punishment..." (Matthew 25:46)

Many people have greater trust in their tradition or intellect than in God and His word. To them the gospel of Christ is an insult.

Paul wrote, "For the preaching of the cross is to them that perish foolishness..." (I Cor. 1:18)

Therefore many people reject the sacrifice of God's Son. Therefore they reject the only hope of eternal life with God.

The worldly wise and those prudent in their own eyes will have their wisdom destroyed and their prudence brought to nothing. (I Cor. 1:19)

The Psalmist stated, "Lord, thou hast been our dwelling place in all generations. Before the mountains were brought forth, or ever thou hadst formed the earth and the world, even from everlasting to everlasting thou art God." (Psalms 90:1-2)

Puny finite man's wisdom cannot compare to the wisdom of the eternal, omnipotent, omnipresent, all powerful God. The scribes and philosophers had nothing to compare to the message authored by the Holy Spirit through the inspired men. (I Corinthians 1:20)

The preaching of the crucified Christ was a stumbling block to the Jews. The Jewish tradition had conditioned them to expect a king to come from Jerusalem and establish an earthly throne and throw off the Roman yoke.

The lowly Jesus from the insignificant city of Nazareth was rejected as being the anointed one. Peter said, "This stone which was set at nought of you builders, which is become the head of the corner." (Acts 4:11) The Jews looked upon Jesus as being nothing.

Even the apostles gave up on their hope in Christ. After his arrest in the garden, we read, "And they all forsook Him and fled." (Mark 14:50)

Until they knew his resurrection was a fact, they thought all of their time spent with Jesus was lost.

The Greeks looked upon the preaching of Christ as foolishness. They were trusting in the philosophers of their day such as Aristotle, Plato, Epicurus, Stoics, etc. They felt satisfaction in the culture of their time.

But there were some who were truly wise. "But unto them which are called, both Jews and Greeks, Christ is the power of God, and the wisdom of God." (I Cor. 1:24)

The reason given: "Because the foolishness of God is wiser than men; and the weakness of God is stronger than men." (I Cor. 1:25)

God does not want man to glory in his presence. He uses what the world calls foolish to confound the wise and what the world calls weak to confound the things which are mighty. (I Cor. 1:27-30)

The gospel of Christ is the power of God unto salvation. (Rom. 1:16) It furnishes man completely unto every good work. (II Tim. 3:16-17)

It reveals all things that pertain to life and godliness. (I Peter 1:3)

Demand of those who preach that they preach God's word without addition or subtraction.
